

LIES

note: proper pronouns used sometimes, as applicable.

Growing up as a small person, among big people, was enigmatic to me as a child. First was learning truth and lies. Parents teach their kids to lie, why? When the child accidentally breaks a lamp or other mischief or accident and tells mother grand inquisitor parent the truth, the child is punished. Not rewarded for speaking truth, with a simple thank you for being honest, but punished instead. B. F. Skinner would have never made history with this tactic. So the next time child gets nabbed for an infraction she blames the dog, dog blames the goldfish; poor Fido gets a lecture and thrown into the back yard without supper for the day. Just as puzzled as the child if not more so as to why. Dogs cannot verbally defend themselves. Another case is a family dog who grabbed the hand of a sitter before she hit the child. Sitter made a melodrama of it; drama queen went free. The family shot the dog, go figure..... The dog protected the child from an abusive sitter; eventually she was found out but poor Fido, RIP, suffered as an innocent to more injustice from humans. When a child is learning the fine art of lying; when caught in a lie she soon learns the sin is getting caught not in lying. Sneaky is as sneaky does.

Recently a friend's kid got caught with the wrong vegetable material in his pocket during a state police shakedown of motorists on a Saturday night masked as looking for drunk drivers. He was young, scared, naive so the cop took full advantage of that for a search without probable cause other than he was out cruising with his friends. In the draft years, cops pulled over kids out cruising then busted them on some vague charges, hauled them to a kangaroo court, with a military recruiter as council. The kid was told join Army or Marines or jail. It was the express draft outside of the lottery draft notice most got right out of high school. The kid was railroaded into serving as cannon fodder unless his parents with a real lawyer showed up the the whole US injustice gig was up. The whole sham exposed Justice in US is only for those who can pay for it; the draft showed us the same thing; those with PI or silver spoon got out of it; the rest of us rabble went to a meat grinder of war making the rich richer, the poor deader. US injustice caught my friend's kid in the same sort of sham as the draft days; US socialists call this freedom. My friend's kid was another casualty of the draconian drug war waged by tyrannical US govt running dope black markets for profit from black and from busts like this kid underwent by the police state. It cost him very dearly. The whole affair is a prohibition descendant and kangaroo injustice racket that makes politicians rich like the Kennedy's who got rich and bought their way into power running Canadian whiskey and Mexican tequila during prohibition, which only applied to USA. Now the bastards run human slave trafficking & dope instead of booze. Fortunately the kid did not end up as a prison bitch ruined for life as so many young men have been. US prison's for profits, with US congress as major stockholders, incarcerate more people per capita than any other country in the world, even more than the Chinese and Soviet gulag systems. What does that tell ya about American freedom? Can you say US communism masked as freedom and democracy now complete with stolen elections outright instead of on the sly? Kinky Friedman said, 'never trust an election with more than one ballot box.' Mark Twain wrote in 1800's, 'If voting really changed anything it would be illegal, they wouldn't let us do it.' American's think they are free because they can shop at Walmart. I told my friend's kid your crime was not getting caught with pot, it was getting caught at all. He asked why his dad never told him such things? Because I am a disturbing element, a Heyoka, corrupting your mind with truth and, because your dad doesn't know any better; he is brainwashed same as you are supposed to be by state propaganda and bad laws made by bad people that serve evil people. I guess public education dropped you through the cracks brainwashing you, so, I am happy to contribute by debauching your mind in telling you the truth. It did not come easy for me, either. So don't despair about it just get smart before you get old too quickly. The little ah-ha light went off in his eyes. Go for it kid!!

They pretend to be honest and ethical, he pretends to be honest and ethical without getting caught this time. The truth about drug laws is that the police states profit from them on both sides. See the story of Frank Serpico; the movie 'Serpico' with Al Pacino is good, his bio is better. I grew up in his era that was best of all; it was mostly absent literary and cinematic license. One very brave man, he is a true hero of heroes in my book. Otherwise if we paid actual costs of runaway US collectivist, corrupt lootership robbing this Looney bin country, we would all be living under bridges in Bidenvilles waiting for soup kitchens and free clinics to open. Keeping pot illegal has netted the legal-political oligarchy billions in fighting it and billions more in black market sales of dope, handsomely. Locking up Tommy Chong on a set up highly publicized bogus dope paraphernalia rap sent pot sales through the roof; defiant young people across America toked openly in public defiance as rebellion against his bust and indenture and bad laws made by bad, evil, people. The whole thing was a staged event to do just that except Chong did do time to make it look real. James brown did, too. Now the stuff is legal kinda sorta. Police states do not want to turn loose of their massive largess fleecing the rabble; more are supplementing it with state lotteries and para-mutual gambling, too. As I mentioned if we paid the true costs of runaway corrupt US govt we'd all be living in Bidenvilles eating out of garbage cans fighting over aluminum cans.....

Richard Pryor was Hollywood's darling selling the glammers life of crack, cocaine, whores, pot and booze. When he attempted suicide dousing self with alcohol and lighting it afire, lame mass media reported it as a freebasing accident instead of truth that would hurt dope sales. After Prior got out of the hospital and prison; authorities put him in prison to protect him from self, that shit made him batshit crazy, like it did James Brown. Pryor came clean admitting that drugs and booze destroyed his life and suicide was his last option to end what was left of it. Moreover, he did this to sold out crowds of his concerts. He opened with, 'I am touched with so many people here tonight after all the shit I been through....' The crowd went wild, Richard was one of them, a human, an Icus who flew too close to the sun and fell from grace as their idol. Then he lit a match and waved it through the air, asking what is that? Then answered his question with: 'Richard Pryor after free basing making fun of his suicide.' That single man pushed more kids to the straight and narrow away from dope, booze and the glammers life than any person alive; he used his example standing naked to the world; then said, this is where it leads; make your choice where you want to go. He also did more alone to end racism, too, until the damned leftists revived that mummy as excuse to regain political control to destroy what is left of this country. Richard Pryor is a hero of heroes in my book, too. He made a bio movie named Jo Jo Dancer. His daughter wrote a book, Jokes my Father never told me; both are excellent. He bore his cross with valor so did Frank Serpico; can we ask for any better role models? If you don't stand for something you will bite and swallow boat, hook, line and sinker on anything. These men walked the walk through hell and talked the talk warning others about living a hell on earth.

Oh, it gets worse from there. All the legal addictions of tobacco, alcohol, OTC & black market drugs and big Pharma drug Inc cannot have a self-help-treatment anyone can grow in a garden or out of a patio or window box. Only when profits drop and expenses get so high enforcing these bad laws will the insanity end like happened in Europe, Germany and Nordic countries. Govt made more tax cash when prohibition ended than what it spent trying to enforce it; you cannot legislate morality. So pot remains illegal. Paul McCartney got busted at a Japan airport customs for pot. Years before Chong got nailed. His global news release was telling. He said, 'pot is nearly harmless and illegal when compared to glue, alcohol and tobacco, which are legal; highly addictive, and very destructive.....I have never seen pot addiction cost a person his life, home, sanity, career, or cause so much harm than those three aforementioned drugs that highly profit the state legally in taxes, and corporations from massive profits legally selling them. All business is corrupt including govt, all of them no exception and religion is at the bottom of this dirt.....' To shut Paul up, English govt jerked off his ego by making Paul nobility as a 'lord' or something. They simply assassinated John Lennon who could not be bought off for his rebellion against evil laws and the people who make and enforce them. The Japan thing was to illustrate the criminality of bad drug laws made and profiteered by bad lawmakers for benefit of making evil people richer. More lies conditioned into us by society and lootership govts blinding the sheeple to this. As your bad influence: ever hear of Juror nullification of a law? Research it, starting with the FIJA – fully informed jury association. More and more jurors are catching on and are killing the drug war with this in the courts and the police state is shitting marbles trying to stop it; it is your constitutional right to stop bad laws made by bad lawmakers, nullification extends to all laws not just injustice of drug prohibitions. Juror's are finished being useful idiots to the state imprisoning innocent people in its kangaroo courts. Countless numbers of innocent people went to prison by juries lied to by lawyers and judges; they own that karma, only to find after the trial the imprisoned person was innocent, and sent to the jug for political reasons like Tim was Leary. In America political dissidents are imprisoned as drug criminals; In China and Russia, they are honest in their brutality jailing Political dissidents. 'I am sorry' from the jury does not return a life spent behind bars for a crime he did not commit. Like Tim Leary did. That is why courts want juries to take the onus like politicians do voters; when things go wrong for status quo politico then they point fingers blaming juries and voters screaming they approved it not us! What these fools never figure out is when a person is deceived into a crime, karma belongs to deceiver not deceived. The whole drug crime thing in US is a political crimes sentence like the Chinese and Soviet sedition show trials of communist injustice for political reasons. Communist coup de tat' of US is a step by step thing. US call political crimes drug crimes; China and Russia call it political crimes if anything at all; more often absent the show trial they just shoot you and call a garbage crew to dispose of remains. US gave many speedy trials then hung an innocent defendant after often using the same rigged jury as executioner in the bad old days of all white stacked juries and court staff against some scapegoat native American or black nation victim. Jury nullification largely ended that by exposing and overturning bad laws murdering innocent people for political expediency in USA. Movies in a soft sell like 'To Kill a Mockingbird' exposed this crime with cinematic license degradation. Gregory Peck did a fantastic job of it and Sport was the real hero of the film. The underlying message was American injustice in kangaroo courts against minorities, an innocent black man in this case hung to cover for the real criminal by murdering a scapegoat. Keep in mind though the black nation took a tarring in US, nothing compares to the wholesale 500 year genocide of Red nations and buffalo smearing US history during colonization.

Judges lie and deny juror nullification, lawyers shit marbles and more when you mention nullification in knowing your rights they seek to deny you via ignorance. Only you can know the truth and, Knowledge of it and how you use it is what sets people free!!! Back in the bad old days of all white stacked juries and police state 'hanging' judges and useful idiot juries that were railroading blacks to prison and hanging, those few good people of conscience used juror nullification to stop the practice. I don't mean the 'good American's' like 'Good Germans' who looked the other way from atrocities of genocide, persecution, mass murder and more, but the good one's who took a stand against tyranny exposing it while risking their lives doing so. "Jim Brown, Oskar Schindler & Frank Serpico' come immediately to mind. Nullification is the atomic secret weapon against bad US laws. Our fore-fathers and fore-mothers knew tyranny and designed a constitution to fight against it; including the right to bear arms protections and Juror Nullification against the sort of kakistocracy running this country right now. A lot of innocent people lost their lives fighting American govt tyranny. Like John Brown and his underground railroads and riots to eliminate slavery which cost him his life. Don't forget Lincoln's assassination for emancipation of the slaves by a liberal leftist assassin. The liberal-left-commies were for slavery, still are and don't forget that. Lincoln was a conservative. These men died for their sanity in an insane world. Few women got involved in such things real revolt is too messy for them, most are not so strong after all when it comes to a real fight beyond shrill harpy slactivists burning bras and carrying signs. Harriet Tubman and Rosa Parks come to mind as the only strong women who got involved in the messy end of this shit. Now juror sanity is ending the drug war in the courts same as it ended inhumanities against black and red nations.

Civil disobedience is each person learning how not to be stupid and ignorant rebelling against lackeys and tyrants that they won't tell you so listen to the disturbing elements doing it for them until silenced; learn it and use it. Many Americans have figured out our courts, jury system is a kangaroo sham. More people refuse to be involved and say so; in my county 90 no show rate for jury duty screams it; In LA a few years ago 500 potential jurors rioted; the county could not arrest them all so sent them home; Voting and Census face same dilemmas. Less than 20% in real number responded to last census. Census takers were murdered in some area of US. People are tired of the police state and are fighting back. Learned ignorance is being the 'good little US citizen' like a 'Good German' or 'Good Feminist,' look that term up because I don't mean it to flatter or in a good way. One sits by looking the other away doing nothing while genocide, holocausts and more went on under the good German's noses during WW2 and Jewish holocaust. Same for racist crimes by the state in US history. Same for the good feminists who say they don't hate men or are misandrist but look the other way while her sister's tyranny goes on. Never forget useful idiots, this stuff starts somewhere and eventually it comes for you..... 'They shoot useful idiots last,' said Yuri Bezmenov, Russian defector to USA.

This was written during Nazi atrocities and stands true today:

First they came for the Socialists, and I did not speak out—Because I was not a Socialist.

Then they came for the Trade Unionists, and I did not speak out—Because I was not a Trade Unionist.

Then they came for the Jews, and I did not speak out—Because I was not a Jew.

Then they came for me—and there was no one left to speak for me.

For Tyranny to thrive all it takes is for good people to do nothing. Eventually they come for you..... Groups of screaming harpies protesting this or that does not work except to keep the harpy's busy and profiting lame mass media propaganda sources. Intelligent civil disobedience using the establishment's laws against it is effective. Use them to your benefit then turn their laws against them.

Timothy Leary spent most of his life in prison from a CA. police state set up of a drug bust for roaches a crooked cop planted in his car with the goal to terminate him in prison as a snitch. Let the cons take the rap and get their hands dirty taking out our political enemy of the state; happens all the time in USA. Tim was teaching people to think outside the box, and to help selves then he taught them citizen disobedience using the system against itself. The cons realized it was a set up; Tim taught them their rights and how to defend and help selves using the state's social and Gestapo laws that put them in prison in the first place. Tim taught the inmates to use the system to their advantage and turn it against itself. Inmate civil disobedience. No blood, no guns, no bombs, no violence, nobody is hurt or killed, just employ wits and knowledge overcoming ignorance the system used against you: ignorance of law is no excuse to break it rap thing. Gotcha laws are made just to set you up for a pinch. Sedition is a vague description of a non-crime, from which many lost their lives. Sedition is a 'I don't like you so hangman, hang em, high....' Look it up!! Don't take my word for anything think for you, look it up!! The only way for a police state to function is to make everyone a criminal. Communists have known that since Jesus was a corporal. You cannot avoid booby traps you don't know exist. The 'Booby trap' state knows and uses that against all of us. John Lennon said, 'they keep you doped up on religion, sex and TV....' The state assassinated him for his sanity. Tim Leary left prison as a sacred hero and a god to the con community, as the only man who actually helped them instead of hurting them as police state society had done since childhood; most were abused as kids who were then abused by society as adults instead of being helped; true victims of police state aggression if there ever exists one. Tim taught them to turn ignorance into freedom from tyranny that abused them horribly. PTB deemed him a disturbing element and imprisoned Tim to shut him up using Art Linkletter and lame mass media as their puppet mouthpieces; it did not work. Tim was not the first or last to face US police state and live to tell his story. History is full of epitaphs of those who did not live as victims of oppression by the state. Wise up you could be next. Frank Serpico is another hero of heroes. Read about him for a better understanding. These modern day 'faux heroes' have shit for brains compared to the real heroes. These are the best role models for study not screaming harpy slactivists on ego trips holding candle light vigils, holding signs, shedding alligator tears for the camera. Ever notice the flood of celebrity these days? Glare of celebrity spotlight is the only effective response as a distraction away from mass crimes that are committed in secret and kept hidden from prying eyes by US police state.

My mother lived in a fantasy. She was a 4-year-old selfish brat in a woman's fully reproductive body still living in fairy tales instead of reality.

It is always best to live with reality; because eventually reality will find and come live with you.

She misused her reproductive gift as a weapon against dad, and kept popping out kid after kid into an environment of scarcity of never enough. Thanks to the socialist era of JFK, LBJ we knew hunger, privation, abuse, etc she had more kids to not go to work as a wage slave, but dad did his best and finally broke down; with no food in the house and 5 starving kids, though she always had funds for her addictions.... She finally self hoisted with her fart bag and had to leave homemaker for the work world. Her best thinking sunk her proverbial boat, as it were when Reality Came a Calling. She said, 'I never felt oppressed until forced from home to work for an educated idjit as a wage slave....working for an educated idjit woman' this was during the women's liberation era of the 60's screaming to escape what mom and others like her knew as a safe haven from the real world. That was her first bitter bite of life's reality shit sandwich. Sweet in the mouth putrid bitterness in the belly. More and more women find this out the hard way...

Fantasy is what she taught her kids; they all do that before matriarchal-public education and collectivist Hollywood fantasy factories get hold of them. I see it all around today with young women, especially in workplaces; medicine & govt is rife with them. She gets the Florence Nightingale fantasy complex that she is a Madonna saint saving the world so goes into medical riding a savior ego trip. Most people cannot save selves so live in wonder woman fantasies saving the world. Only to find the medical industrial complex is a brutal field of corruption, mammon, sickness, misery, dying, pain, murder, backstabbing betrayal, and death instead of glory; same for the teaching field; these are not professions; they are vocations with a spit-polish facade of an unrewarding fake profession, another lie to gloss over the choice behind a wasted life. She cannot handle the real life job at all and throws a toddler temper tantrum out of overwhelmed fear when a crisis of her mind occurs. That might work with mommy or in shelter of Marxist seedbed schools but not in real life in the business world. Anyone who thinks she is indispensable do this experiment in awareness: stick your finger in a bowl of water then pull it out and look at the hole; you are as indispensable to the business world as that hole. In fact to the whole universe you don't matter in the least; it does not care; it can take you out and make millions more in one sunrise. Your feelings to it are nothing. I realized this in a story: In the wooden ship days a man fell overboard and clung to a piece of flotsam for weeks. Finally he neared land but just before landing the waves dashed him against shore rocks and killed him. After all his suffering the universe did not care it killed him anyway. We are all like that to the world and universe.

My mom was just like that; in her mind she was prima Donna of the world. I once observed while sitting in a clinic; a man came in who was suicidal seeking help; I could hear the desperation in his voice; he was a war vet literally at the end of his rope; no one knew the horrors in his head but him; you never know what a person has been through that makes the act crazy. VA said said we can help, just ask us, as he pointed to THE LIE hanging on the wall 'vet crisis help sign.' So he asked for help; the receptionist freaked out, blew up accusing him of dumping on her and made a scene as distraction from her pitiful immature, childish, incompetence. He finally very calmly said, 'I am suicidal and need help; you say you can, please help me.' Some vets never got that far, they just suicided on the spot with a bullet in the brain, which made the point and ended his suffering. VA then stood by with its dick in hand babbling nonsense pointing fingers all round. She regrouped and replied, 'thank you for explaining that to me.' Called security and the clinic shipped him off wearing a hair shirt to an inpatient psych lock up for drugging and observation. GET THE LOONEY OUT OF HERE; IT'S BAD FOR BUSINESS AND LIABILITY AGAINST WRONGFUL DEATH SUITS!! That was his help..... The whole thing is a racket. All that propaganda of a calm provider counseling in a crisis situation shown on the wall signs was holy pure bunk. The lock-up doped him, observed him two weeks until insurance ran out then threw him out the door. Those birds were sicker than he; doctors heal thyselfes then prove it. Often the VA simply throws a suicidal veteran out of the ER, 'with doctor screaming let him suicide, I don't care behind him'; two days later he kills self. This made national news and of course socialist VA covered up and dismissed it and even tried to blame it on our favorite US leftist scapegoat Donald Trump. The wrongful death lawsuits still abound from that SNAFU; VA is over two billion deep in settlements for malpractice and wrongful death suits and skyrocketing. It's only taxpayer money, so who cares? Govt can rob more from US taxpayers with violence of law at gunpoint.... or Biden can work overtime printing more of it. VA agency gets hundreds of billions each year annual budget for such care to help war damaged vets get help; it pockets most of the taxpayer largess and lies that vets get the rest. Only fifty cents of every five dollars of VA budget gets to vets; the rest goes to political pork, friends in congress, crooked VSO's and employee pockets. Seems every vet that calls the suicide hotline VA classifies as saved from suicide to bolster their numbers hiding actual suicide deaths with convenient memory against real tallies hiding the bodies in a national cemetery. Now the psych meds pushed like candy in VA and pvt care are responsible for people snapping and going on killing rampages and for the national suicide epidemic, among other things. It is a trip to see these drug companies advertise their miracle drugs on daytime TV, just ask your MD for a bottle to be your level best; to then see on late night law firm TV ads seeking clients for a class action suit for the damages caused to people by those wonder drugs. Throw more gas on a raging fire won't you? Now the lawyers camp out on Big Pharma facility parking lots cashing in directly without TV mid-level sales people. Must be good to be a rich lawyer or politician.

Anyway back to mom, queen of fantasy. Today's psych providers would probably diagnose her as schizophrenic child that never grew up. That is most of America, especially her women. She dresses up on power suits peddled by fortune 500 companies, talks TV shit from a Wonder Woman clip and suddenly is a strong superhero woman. People don't know reality from fantasy because they've been raised by lies since birth.

I first learned the many brutal truths of reality in grade school maybe grade 1 or 2. Mom was a fanatic about holidays, Xmas, Easter, tooth fairy, TGD, ad infinitum. She drafted we kids in her shared neurotic realities. At Xmas she put up a paper chimney and told we kids Santa came down it because he was magic. Magic is smoke and mirror illusion; Hollywood fantasy factory in one word: magic. Magic was her reality. I heard a lot of magic when a kid. Bullshit is BS I don't care how you spell it. Ok, I'm at school during recess. It is after Xmas. I mostly played alone because we moved a lot and I was always fresh meat for the cliquish, clannish, gossip and outcast meat grinder as a new kid in school. The outsider. US Xenophobia. I went to 9 different grade schools in first grade, we moved a lot seeking work in a socialist wonderland of scarcity for all but the socialist bureaucrats. Kids and teaches are cruel. Rejection was my middle name; recess was mandatory back then; bullying, beatings, etc were standard fare. As John Lennon would say decades later, "they hurt you at home and hit you at school till you're so fucking crazy you can't live by their rules...." 'Kids will be kids' said brave coward authorities too incompetent to monitor abusive schoolyard activities. Lawsuits finally braved them up. Still goes on today only worse now the schoolyard comes to them with a bomb or a gun, or a dead kid, which causes a lot of attention to the holder, and to lawyers when a kid suicides from faculty and student bullying at home or on school grounds. It crossed my mind at age 10 for same reasons as Lennon said. Anyway, I was playing alone. That is a red flag to trouble making people, kids with nothing better to do than fuck up your day for being contented without them; why should you be happy; that begins at home with fucked up parents and their student spawns in the schoolyard with fucked up overpaid faculty wannabe babysitters – aka crybaby teachers.

I was preoccupied alone playing with a plastic toy from Xmas. A group of kids surrounded me and asked what I was doing? "Playing," said I. One asked where did you get the toy. I said, 'Santa.' Voof the whole group lit into me screaming stupid, dumb-ass, retard, don't you know there is no Santa,' your mom and pop are Santa; then ragged me to no end with more jeers and laughter. On my way to class I threw away the toy but did not cry or let them know it hurt; it hurt anyway; everyone is casualty in that kind of rejection. Some lame mass media twerp once said, John Lennon was 'a man who never learned to cry.' Oh yes we do, we just never let you see it. Dignity is often the last refuge for those of us on the shitty end of societies short straws. Now days the hurt kid comes back and blows up the school after killing the teachers and kids. Sweet Poetic justice. I only fantasized revenge; today kids actually do it. Idiot adults never look at why, they are afraid of selves, they fear what they may find and run away to hide from selves and reality in denial and blame. Blame never accomplishes anything. Blame is the refuge of American cowards and their politicians, but I digress.

Once at home I asked mom about Santa and told her what happened at school and she just replied, 'those kids lied; there is a Santa....' I soon learned to trust gut intuition and distrust adults. Especially mom, both parents actually but dad was gone working to give her the American dream; one has to be sleeping to believe it. That year at Xmas mom as always set out a plate of cookies and milk for this magic fat man Santa that came through a chimney that did not exist to deliver presents under an artificial tree. I dog eared a cookie and put it back onto the plate. Xmas morn that cookie was back in the cookie bowl. Funny how that bottle of milk soured so quickly every Xmas, too. Obviously she poured warm contaminated milk from 'Santa's' glass back into the jug to hide the lie. These were the days when a milkman delivered dairy products; one could not jump into a car go to the store for fresh jug. Stores did not carry milk, then. Union rules you know. One had to wait for next home deliveries from the milkman. So it was dry reconstituted milk to fill in the gap. The stuff is awful even if one holds his nose to drink it. So no milk for a week or two after dumping the sour stuff. I realized life and reality were and remain brutal truths while very young. Living a lie makes sobering up to truth from a fantasy drunk a real bitch, I tell ya. Mom lied; I wondered what else she lied about and began to see it in everything, everywhere. TV, adults, school, society, churches, fairy tales told to kids, nothing but fairy tales & lies. Religion was the biggest prick about lies about an invisible man watching my every move waiting to stomp me like a cockroach for sins of ignorance then burn me in hell with a devil's fork up my ass; and I am supposed to feel guilty about a man's torture and death several thousand years ago for my sake; I did not ask him to die for me and I did not ask to be born into this shithole hell where everything was a sin, a beating or worse, and the bullshit got heavier from there. A girl I knew did not sleep for two weeks after the church bible school for kids told her the earth was ending by fire. She feared if she slept she would burn up. She could not sleep from the nightmares of fire with her in it. Fucking religious shit is child abuse if you ask me. She was only 5 and terrified to death of burning up in her sleep. Later in life slowly I abandoned living a lie; ditching religion first. You know religion is like public education it does not prepare one for real life; school was a baby sitter more than anything. It said nothing about preparing a kid for what we experience in life; mortgages, contracts, responsible budgeting, compound interest, credit cards, debt, grief, death, police state tyranny, corruption, political corruption, loss none of the serious shit that kicks your ass after blindsiding the person. Religion said nothing about the dark night of the soul, which as a tribal spirit bearer was the whole time for me in a progressive from bad to worse. Some call it the existential crisis, another ball dropped by religion and school. Instead a kid is taught lies that only fuck you up. If one separates the myth from man, Jesus in abstract hit DNS with his torture and crucifixion after a fairly good life until then. He wrestled with what most of us do, anger issues, lust, etc. Especially during his final days fasting on the mountain struggling with his internal Satan as it were, as we all do. Sins of the world as it were. Adyashanti has a piece about the stages of Jesus going through life and DNS missed by clergy and most people. It is telling. He is a no bullshit guru type guy; awakening hurts. He is not the airy fairy BS of unicorns and rainbows. He is the before DNS carry water chop wood; after DNS carry water chop wood; your burdens are no easier; but you know why they exist. I think the reasons these institutions don't tell us or at least warn us is to keep the parasites making a living off people's miseries. Truth is so much easier than lying in the end. One must realize people do try to warn us about this stuff but they exist in their reality tunnels and what is understandable to say Jung is a mystery to someone else; enter the preachers, gurus, bullshitters, therapists but I digress, to explain it to us with their special sauce and a price tag. In the end it is your personal sacred truth and none other. There is no the way only your path through your reality tunnel of life, valley of suffering and death.

Richard Pryor once said, 'if you live life living lies one day you wake up and realized you have wasted your whole life living a lie.' Leo Tolstoy wrote the same thing in 'Life and Death of Ivan Illyich.' When doing the family thing, I faked it for the wife and kid. It did some damage. Playing phony living a lie has a steep price. After divorce I simply refused to share some woman's neurotic fantasy; simply not go to church or celebrate any holidays at all. Take your wedding shit to Walmart maybe they will buy it. She usually leaves me alone pretty quickly, which is all well and good with me. Torture somebody else lady. Solitude is better than living a lie. Fantasy excitement does not turn me on. She can get kicks somewhere else there awaits some bad boy to run her through the ringer, again. He will give her something to whine about at the man bashing ain't it awful at the sob sisters and brothers of America club meeting.

Mom & Dad bit hard on lies of consumerism, alcohol and tobacco consumption then sold those lies to we kids; addictions that finally killed mom horribly. She smoked self to death. Paul McCartney was correct about his killer three legal drugs. Dad died a horrible death from gangrene that progressed from hospital caused staph infection misdiagnosed by incompetent medical care during the miracle drug antibiotic era sold to American's paying dearly for the industry's mistakes; we still do. These were the same quacks selling cigarettes on magazine tobacco ads as healthy choices for a sound body. I recall seeing them on TV, Billboards and printed publications everywhere. You know the add 'chesterfield kings are preferred by 9 out of 10 doctors' type adds. Most like mom & dad are buried so nobody knows the truth only your doctor knows for sure and she ain't talkin; dead people can't talk you know. The medical industry certainly is not going to contradict their lies with truth. The industry has too much invested in Marcus Welby, Chesterfield King, Dr. Mengele and Dr. Kildare propaganda to fess up. They know getting caught in a lie is the real sin like any two year old can tell ya. Oh, yeah, Conan

Doyle was a British MD who wrote Sherlock Holmes books to sell pipe tobacco. Does that tell you something? I learned critical thinking to question everything as a child. Trust nothing. It is all bullshit. Romance, love, relationships, all fantasy profiting society parasites pushing those enslavements; marriage, parenting and divorce beat me bloody with a baseball bat teaching that brutal lesson. Lust as love is a bitch. Military, same thing; it breaks a kid drafted out of high school down to whale shit to rebuild as a soldier, as whale shit in a uniform topped off with a piss pot, tasked to kill innocent people for country, mom, apple pie and jingoism; not the son of a bitch who really needs it. A kid goes from girls, cars, jerking off and Saturday night cruising to guns, bombs, murder, as a patriotism crash course of bullshit and lies serving a corrupt king of thieves US socialist govt and religion's fighting rich people's wars; one must undo all that MINDFUCK to fit back into society after uncle Sam is finished with your ass. Ever try to fit an oversized square peg into a round undersized hole? That is violence of law enforced via prison and a gun barrel before the show trial starts; in America socialists call it freedom. In communist Russia or China life, its do it or we give you a speedy show trial before we hang or shoot you afterwards. It is all in how you structure the message with lies. Sometimes when in a rush the state dispenses with formalities and just shoots or hangs the sot straightaway; see US lynch mobs. In communist countries people know the state is full of shit and lies; in US people expect sweet little lies to hide behind in denial then whine like bitch slapped whores that they lied to us to excuse their stupidity and self deception; no shit fool; how do you know when a politician is lying? the bastard is still moving while mumbling you can trust me. They know you are stupid and keep doing the same frauds every generation of fools because they work; selling old sour wine in new jugs to each new generation of suckers born every minute; the political parties have a big shebang every 4 years laughing all the way to their Swiss bank accounts chanting we fucked them once again, happy days are here again, la, la, la. Same for career & college lies serving up with a lifetime of student loan debt, wage slavery, police state corruption & theft, aka taxation, regulations, running on the corporate store mammon human-rat-race-wheel, healthcare sham, to working the slaves into a grave; same for religion and MHC which is the new religion dressed in white coats, with padded dungeons, hair shirts, and script pads for bad drugs that really hose you up. At least the old tent revivals had decent patent medicine snake oil with some really potent shit to make your nose hair curl. When one gets out of the box built for him or her to start seeing reality; society sends in the mental health 3-stooges like old time religion once did; father, son & spook, now replaced by Dr. Curly, Dr. Mo and Dr. Harry, to do an exorcism while stuffing the person back into the box created for each of us at birth. 'We Cheatum and Howe' law firm LLC comes in to mop up any loose change. Instead of penance blowing the priest and 100 Hail Mary's its off to the Looney bin MINDFUCK to blow the doc and staff for a handful of pills to erase the memories and mouthwash to rinse out the bad taste. That is state reconditioning and reeducationing the person from sane back to insane: are you going to believe us or those lying eyes, ears and mind of yours? 3-seconds to answer us or we do the reeducation process again. You're so doped up all you can do is drool. Muttering fuck you asshole; in USA that nets the person a crazy rap into lock-up, wearing a hair shirt with a nightcap SSRI drip. On a really good day, a lobotomy and ECT just for good measure then to the vegetable bin with a drool towel and butt plug to catch any leaks. In China or Russia they simply shoot you to be done with it. Ya can't beat commie efficiency when it comes to problem resolution. When living in an asylum run by the inmates that is the rule; after a while a sane person goes crazy because the crackerbox palace inmates drive him there. In the end days the world will go mad; anyone sane will be called crazy for not being mad like the world and the world will destroy the person. History is filled with people who died for their sanity: John Lennon, Richard Pryor, Sylvia Plath, OSHO, Joan of Arc, ad infinitum. Then you know what time it is. "e.e. Cummings wrote: the hardest thing for me in life is being me in a world constantly working to make me like it...." Amen. US lives a lie in a fantasy world sheltered from realities of reality; I grew up in the shadows of The great Depression and WW2; Both disasters were intentionally caused by incompetent socialist govt breaking the independent will of American people softening them up for the coming communist tyranny coup de tat, which makes the holy inquisition look like mommy dancing while high with 'mother's little helpers.' It was all planned. My grandparents and parents suffered greatly and needlessly; traumas that passed to their descendants. Futuristic writers like George Orwell, H. G. Wells, Ray Bradbury, Aldous Huxley and more saw this coming and wrote books in the 1800 - 1900's foreshadowing what is going on today. Few accepted the message that the future is a jackboot stomping your face to pulp. These were required reading in High School and opened my eyes wide. I am not surprised that it is happening but surprised how it happens. Huxley said, 'people will come to love and fight to death protecting their enslavement....' He was so right. Now days I don't know what they teach but it stinks like a full, overripe NY garbage barge..... Talk to the average voter, juror, student or college idjit, feminist or young person and it is the same as conversing with a box of rocks, no disrespect to the rock. Perfect for communist reeducation camps: her PhD degree reads, this naked ape is a collectivist trained useful communist idiot. Hire this village idiot so she can pay off the student loans making us a living at 'We Cheatum and Howe 'U.' No disrespect to the village idiot. Hand her a Marxist red book and a cup full of water with instructions for use printed on the cup bottom then show her what to do: monkey see monkey do, comrade. It's helpful to have an empty boot training aid with instructions printed on the heel: 'to empty, turn heel upright.' Ditto for the cup.
